Frank Lloyd WRIGHT(1867 - 1959)

Tomek Grille

Tomek is one of Frank Lloyd Wright's earliest Prairie Houses. He wanted to prove that "architecture is the most completely conventionalized and the most subjective art form, with the exception of music". One of 20 drawings published by the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation that are protected by international copyright regulations.

Tomek is a 60 knots quality.

Artist description:

Frank Lloyd Wright is often described as the greatest of American architects. His works -- among them Taliesin North, Taliesin West, Fallingwater, the Johnson Wax buildings, the Guggenheim Museum -- earned him a good measure of his fame, but his flamboyant personal life earned him the rest. Here Brendan Gill, a personal friend of Wright and his family, gives us not only the fullest, fairest, and most entertaining account of Wright to date, but also strips away the many masks the architect tirelessly constructed to fascinate his admirers and mislead his detractors. Enriched by hitherto unpublished letters and three hundred photographs and drawings, this definitive biography makes Wright, in all his creativity, crackiness, and zest, fairly leap from its pages.
