

N. VROUYR
ANNO 1917

Kirman Lavar

In the 19th century, Kirman was the place for portraits. Many travellers and Western residents had their portraits made in fine carpets, probably after paintings or photographs.

This image of the Holy Virgin with child was an order for a church or a pious person.